VET@HOME

PILOTING VIRTUAL PRACTICAL
TRAININGS FOR CULINARY ARTS VET

PROJECT REF. NO. 2020-1-BG01-KA226-VET-095185

ABOUT THE PROJECT

VET@HOME is an Erasmus+ funded international project designed to create and pilot a standard unit-based syllabus model for virtual practical training courses (training practice) within the vocational education and training (VET) for the profession "Cook".

The project introduces a new approach to conducting practical training leading to qualifications that are adapted for distant learning and blending the use of alternative learning tools and new operational courses in the food and beverage sector across the EU.

OUR GOAL:

The overall aim of VET@HOME is to reinforce the ability of VET institutions to provide high-quality, inclusive digital education in culinary arts adapted as to the post-COVID19 operation standards in the food-and beverage industry.

WHAT IF...?

it is possible to sustain practical vocational training in extreme circumstances such as those caused by the pandemic?
